KNOX DEPLOYMENT PROGRAM

Samsung Knox Deployment Program

What is the Samsung Knox deployment program?

The Samsung Knox deployment program makes it possible for Brodos to provide customers quickly and easily with Samsung devices, making it easier in turn for them to get the devices out to their employees.

Only devices which are purchased from verified distributors can be verified in bulk using device ID's (IMEI/serial number). This allows devices to be seamlessly provided, registered and configured in the B2B sector, without businesses having the hassle of configuring all devices individually.

Setting up devices

- You purchase Samsung devices via Brodos
- Brodos registers devices
- Devices managed via your Knox platform and MDM (mobile device management)
- Employees provided with devices which can be used out of the box
